Our Journey...

Our journey began four years ago as first year students. We were unsure of ourselves and others around us, not knowing where our path would take us or where we would end up. We were uncertain of who we would become and what we would make of ourselves. Four years later, we leave our footprints on Regis College forever. We are proud and determined to venture out to our lives after Regis. We are prepared and ready to embark on our new journey as we go into the world.

As the first co-ed class ever at this small liberal arts Catholic college, we immediately understood what it was like to have a close bond with our peers and faculty. We slowly began placing our footprints on Regis as we learned more about ourselves and each other. We have become a family that we will value for the rest of our lives. Most of us have had classes with the same people over these past four years. They have helped us determine what major we would ultimately select and where we would go in the future. We will always remember the challenges we faced and how we were able to get back on our path to success with guidance from our family, friends and the Regis community. We have gained the knowledge and tools we need from Regis to be successful individuals and we will forever be grateful for the experiences we have had together.

Our footprints will always remain at Regis College. We will look back with pride remembering our journey - the journey that brought us to where we are today. We may have bumps in the future but without fail, we will get back up again and continue our journey leaving new footprints wherever we go.

We will continue to pursue our goals and dreams after we graduate, but we will always remember where our journey began. The footprints we have made at Regis will last forever.

In Memory of and Dedication to Lynn Tripp Coleman

She was known as the "Dear Neighbor" of Regis College, who dedicated her life to serving students and being a leader and mentor to all who had the chance to be graced by her presence. Lynn Tripp Coleman graduated in 1977 from Regis College with a degree in Social Work and started her career at Regis in the fall of 1978 as a resident director.

Lynn quickly immersed herself in the Regis Community and became Dean of Students in 1986. Lynn, as she was known to her students, received a Masters Degree in Higher Education Administration from Suffolk University in 1988. She lived most of her life on the Regis Campus where students had the opportunity to experience her kindness and compassion first hand. Her friendly demeanor and welcoming smile is what students, faculty, and staff will remember most about her. In 2004, Lynn was the first and only person to serve as the Vice President of Student Affairs, where she truly put the needs of each student first and led by example. She spent 32 years of her life quietly, yet passionately, making Regis College a better community by following the values and ideals of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

After a 6 year battle with cancer, Lynn sadly passed away at her Regis home on May 11, 2010. Shortly after, Regis College instituted the Lynn Tripp Coleman Grace and Dignity Award, an annual award in recognition of Lynn's leadership, quiet dedication and grace.

We dedicate the 2011 Yearbook to Lynn Tripp Coleman, who will forever be loved and missed by her family, friends, the Regis Community and anyone who had the opportunity to meet her. We will never forget you and your endless contributions to Regis College, dear neighbor.

A Message From The President

Dear Regis College Class of 2011,

"Beyond mountains, there are mountains," says a Haitian proverb. And with that vision of a journey revealing new challenges as one goes along, the Class of 2011 began its college career in 2007 by reading about Dr. Paul Farmer's quest to cure the world, which led him to Haiti and the establishment of Partners in Health. Now, as you prepare to graduate, you approach achievement of a major milestone on your personal path of higher education and you know what the proverb really means. During each one of your years at Regis College new discoveries and new challenges asked you to find your way afresh. And you did. This was good practice preparing you for what it is to come, even if it has not revealed itself as yet.

You are the class, for example, that demonstrated true leadership as the College shifted to undergraduate co-education in 2007, and you helped make the transition seamless so that Regis men stand beside Regis women as a matter of course. You are the class who faced the nation's economic crisis and the presidential election in 2008 and chose relentlessly to persevere in the pursuit of your degree. You are the class that transformed the cultural watchword of global perspective into the day-to-day reality of life on campus as you cultivated your bilingual heritages; traveled to Peru, Haiti, Portugal, Grenada, Sicily, Rome, Israel, and soon, China; and made meaningful connections from one ethnic viewpoint to another in your conversations.

Concluding one phase of your journey now, the vista opens on another. In 2007 Regis began a relationship with Haitian nursing officials, and last June, six months after the earthquake there, I found myself in Haiti, as the attached photograph shows. So, too, for you, there will be surprises ahead. There is meaning in every journey, said Dietrich Bonhoeffer that is unknown to the traveler until the journey is made.

Whatever your pathway of academic achievement at Regis College has been, it is my hope as you graduate that you find yourself invested with human and spiritual capital – a kind of interior treasure that gives you the intellectual and moral wherewithal to live in a complex, global environment and to make informed decisions along the way that are good for your life and for the lives of those you meet. The College's side of your investment of time here was to give you access to higher education and to help you matriculate and graduate; your side of the investment is to make good choices going forward and to share what you have become with others so as to be a good influence in the world. It matters what path you follow.

This June as you move forward on your journey of life, I am moving forward on mine as well after ten years as President of Regis. Again, for all of us, Bonhoeffer's words are apt: Only the Lord "knows the journey's end," but in faith, "we do know that it will be a road of endless mercy." So take courage as your steps into the future become clear. And keep faith. Know, too, that you are always part of the Regis community, and the College is interested in what you learn on your travels in life.

With my best wishes on the way,

Mary Jane England

Dear Class of 2011,

It has been my honor and privilege to have the chance to lead you all as your class president. As the first co-ed class to graduate, we have marked a new tradition here at Regis and that's an amazing feeling. Our class is composed of many bright women and men and I have been blessed to have the opportunity to get to know all of you. Some of us are writers, dancers, athletes, or musicians but most important, we will all be college graduates. It is funny to think that four years ago our goal was to stand at the Tower to receive our diplomas and now our ambitions are to get into graduate school, law school, pass the NCLEX or start our careers. For some of us we are the first ones in our families to graduate college. We have accomplished so much and now we begin yet another journey.

Looking back at our first year, our campus seemed huge until we realized we could make it to our classes in two minutes. We thought we would never survive those Thursdays of first year seminar or midterms, finals and twenty page papers. Now we are stepping into the world of the unknown with everything we have learned here at Regis to help us reach our goals.

I am extremely proud of each one of you for finally accomplishing the one thing we set out to do four years ago-- to graduate. Some of you will become doctors, lawyers, teachers or nurses. I will be excited to see which career path you have all chosen when we return for our reunion. You have set an example for the other classes and have motivated me to be the best leader I can be. Remember to keep your faith, use your wisdom, and set your standards high. Most important, be proud of yourselves and remember the journey we took to get where we are today, because I am sure it was both challenging and rewarding. No one said it was easy, some said it was impossible and some wanted to quit but with motivation, determination and pride, we made it.

Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "Don't go where the path may lead; go instead where there is no path and leave a mark." Special thanks to my fellow class officers, Elizabeth Lawlor, Narissa Clarke and Caitlin Erwin, for making everything possible.
Congratulations Class of 2011!

Dear Seniors,

It's hard to believe the time has finally come. We are seniors ready to take on the world. Wait, what? Take on the world? We've had quite a journey over the past four years and now we are ready to step into the "real" world. On September 2, 2007, we arrived at Regis to begin our first year. After we checked in, we stood in front of the Tower where we had our first chance to get to know one another. Because the Class of 2011 is the first co-ed class at Regis, we knew we would make history. Our class was learning and growing together. During our first year, we made new friends; ate and socialized in the cafeteria; started three men's athletic teams including basketball, soccer, and swimming and attended Homecoming and other important school events. Men were now living in the residence halls and in classes, groups, and clubs. We proudly finished off the year with the presentation of our First Year Seminar projects.

In our second year, we continued to bond as a class as we tried to balance school work, sports, and time for fun with our friends.

During our junior year at Regis, some of us started internships and some of us started clinicals at different hospitals in the Boston area. Our new athletic field was finished and opened for our teams, we attended the games and cheered on our friends no matter what the weather and the women's basketball team made it to the first round of the playoffs.

September 6, 2010 was the first day of our senior year. We realized we would be graduating in May and there was no stopping us. We had Hoop Rolling in the FAC where the first male student won and then we attended Cap and Gown. We had our last Christmas Tree Lighting with our senior blessing; registered for our Spring 2011 classes; took fall final exams and returned for our last semester and all of its activities.

With our class, life at Regis has changed and Regis has changed us. Our journey together has been great and we will continue blazing a trail. As we continue our journey, our openness, creativity, confidence, and the values of Regis College will help us continue to achieve our goals. Our class is going to do great things after graduation. Congratulations Class of 2011, we did it!!

Letter from the Editor

Dear Class of 2011,

This yearbook is a compilation of four years of memories, memories of lifelong friends, challenges and successes we have had at Regis College, and memories of making history as the first co-ed class to graduate together. This book is designed for us so we may look back years to come and remember all of our accomplishments, experiences and the dedication we have put into our journey at Regis. Whether it's seeing pictures of ourselves dressed up for the Snowball Dance, the MVP of an athletic team, or a member of a club or organization, we will remember with pride, the important individuals we were and always will be to the Regis Community. This yearbook is filled with memories we can bring with us and cherish for the rest of our lives.

Countless hours were put into the production of this yearbook and I would like to thank the staff for your hard work, time and dedication that went into making this yearbook complete. I would also like to thank Dan Smith, Elena DeFelice, Brad Moore, and Eddie Jones for your ongoing assistance and support with the yearbook. Finally, thank you to Dr. Weintraub, because without you, this yearbook never would have been possible. Thank you for everything you have done. I appreciate the contributions you have all made, and I am truly grateful to have helped make the 2011 Yearbook what it is.

Congratulations Class of 2011. We have made it! Now flip through the yearbook and remember what a remarkable class we really are.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Sleeper

Cap & Gown

The Cap and Gown Ceremony was established to acknowledge the graduating class as they begin their final year at Regis.

On this special evening, family, friends and faculty gathered together to congratulate the seniors on their accomplishments. Seniors were given their caps and gowns by faculty members as they took their first steps toward the end of their undergraduate education and the beginning of their lives as graduates of Regis College.

For the Class of 2011, this year marked the first official co-ed graduating class in the history of the College.

Hoop Rolling

Since Regis College was founded in 1927, the graduating class has taken part in many traditions. Hoop Rolling is one such tradition. Started by the first senior class, this event originated with women removing the hoops from their skirts and rolling them down the Morrison House front lawn. The first young woman to cross the finish line and win the race was believed to be the first in her class to get married.

Over the years, this tradition has taken on a new dimension but the importance of the event has not changed. Now, the first student to win the race is predicted to be the first classmate to land a job after graduation or to be the most successful Regis graduate.

Homecoming

Homecoming is held in October every year during a weekend packed with great festivities for the entire Regis Community. This extremely popular event at Regis includes a pep rally filled with games, prizes, contests, and an overwhelming feeling of school spirit. During the weekend, students, faculty, and staff also enjoy a BBQ and carnival held at the newly renovated athletic field. Homecoming Weekend is a great way to start off the school year and, with delicious food, fun games, and great people, this weekend is always a memorable occasion.

Snow Ball

The annual Snow Ball Dance is a formal dance held every December for students and their guests to celebrate the beginning of the winter season. The dance is held in the Fine Arts Center, which is transformed by lights and decorations. The Snow Ball gives students the perfect opportunity to create long last memories by dancing the night away.

Christmas Tree Lighting

This annual event brings the Regis Community together in the College Hall Foyer to honor the seniors and watch the campus become illuminated with Christmas lights. At the Christmas Tree Lighting, the Glee Club, Gospel Choir and Dance Company entertained those present. Once the holiday songs were sung and the dances were performed, attendees got to enjoy a Regis College favorite—a chocolate fountain with a wide variety of great treats to sample. Students, faculty, and staff spent this evening in prayer and celebration and everyone present extended their warm wishes for a healthy and joyous holiday season.

Regis

Athletics

Women's Tennis

In the fall of 2010, the Regis Women's Tennis Team began a rebuilding year under its new coach, John Ciarleglio. While it was a tough year measured just in terms of wins and losses, there were a number of positives. The team was anchored by three returning players, co-captains senior Ally Kuchera and junior MJ Barron who were joined by sophomore Caitlin Fitzgerald. Maryse Emungu, Teanna Montoya, Paige Pasley and Kunjan Patel, four first year students with high school playing experience, completed this year's roster.

The team worked very hard during the two weeks of pre-season to get ready for the conference schedule. Highlights for the season included two hard fought 7 – 2 losses to Eastern Nazarene and Mount Ida and a fantastic 5 – 4 win against conference rival Anna Maria College. Emungu ended the fall season with the most wins overall, MJ Barron received the Most Valuable Player Award for her consistently tenacious play and Kunjan Patel was given the Most Improved Player Award for hard work and significant progress with her technical ability.

Coach Ciarleglio has expanded the women's team season to both fall and spring. The team held its first annual Spring Invitational Tournament on April 23rd with Assumption, Johnson & Wales, Lesley University, and Worcester State. It was a great success played in round-robin format with every player receiving a commemorative T-Shirt.

Men's Tennis

The 2010-2011 Regis Men's Tennis Team played its second intercollegiate season this spring. With the addition of four talented freshmen, Dan Berdichevsky, Jon Dost, Jeff Parrish and Andy White, the team has significantly improved since last year. The team welcomes back three starting players – Mouhamed Diallo, Sophorn Nop and Matt Smolko.

After five weeks of indoor practices, the men's team went on its first spring break trip to Hilton Head, South Carolina. Playing spring break tennis is an important step in the evolution of the program to a more competitive level. Playing five matches against teams from all around the east and mid-west prepared the team for their last season in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. Coach Ciarleglio expects the team to win matches and, as important, to be much more competitive overall.

Women's Soccer

The Regis College Women's Soccer Team ended the 2010 season with a record of 3-15-1. The three wins were against Southern Vermont, Wheelock, and Daniel Webster, notable since all three are in the New England Collegiate Conference. Regis will be competing in the NECC beginning Fall 2011. At the end of season awards dinner, the coaches gave out four team awards including: Most Valuable Player, Kara Donovan, '13; Coaches Award, Kelly Cadigan, '12; Best Attacker, Michelle Sirois, '13; and Most Improved Player, Tess McLean, '14.

Men's Soccer

The Men's Soccer Team continued on its path of improvement and growth in the Fall of 2011 while only notching two more draws than the year before (4 wins, 12 Losses and 2 draws). The team brought much excitement and competitive matches against some of New England's top Division III schools, including overtime thrillers with Western New England, Curry, UNE, Lesley and Colby-Sawyer. In addition, first year defender Jeffrie Parrish won the program's first Commonwealth Coast Conference honors as Defensive Player of the Week. In addition, first year goalkeeper Ryne Tillman led both The Commonwealth Coast Conference and the nation in saves. The team does not graduate any players this year and is poised to be a championship contender as they enter the New England Collegiate Conference in 2011.

Women's Volleyball

Led by a pair of savvy seniors Meghan McCarty and Randi Garritty, the 2010 Regis College Women's Volleyball Team showed it could play with just about anyone. A 9-25 overall record and 3-8 Commonwealth Coast Conference mark only begins to tell the story of the 2010 season as the Pride displayed a number of gutsy performances throughout the year. The Pride qualified for the Commonwealth Coast Tournament for the third straight year and improved their conference win total and overall win total from 2009. The senior leadership and a roster full of young and talented underclassmen set a solid foundation from which the program will build. The team made huge strides as a program and have paved the way for the future of volleyball at Regis College.

Men's Volleyball

In its second season of varsity competition, the men's volleyball program continues to grow in the right direction. Their overall record is no indication of the positive progress underway. Led by senior James Guaragna and junior Andrew Carroll, the men battled to remain competitive in all of their matches. With a move to a new conference set for 2012, the men's team has a strong foundation for future success.

Field Hockey

This year's field hockey team had a successful season to end their journey as part of The Commonwealth Coast Conference! Although missing the playoffs by one game, they put up a fight to leave a name for themselves after going O-15 the prior season with just 9 players! Led by Junior Captains, Megan Robohm and Torie Pappas, the team finished the season 4-12 with 2 players, Chelsea Morrison (sweeper) and Morgan Mitchell (goalie), making all conference selections! Morgan also went on to be named the 3rd best goalie for save percentage in all of DIII! The team will not graduate any seniors and will be led by its Captains, the return of 9 outstanding sophomores and a handful of incoming contributing first year players next season! They are looking forward to the change into the NECC next year and hope to capture not only a championship but an appearance in the NCAA tournament!

Swimming & Diving

The men's and women's swim programs continued to take giant leaps forward this past season. The women matched their win total of a year ago finishing with a 3-11 record while the men set a program mark for wins by accumulating a record of 7-5. Over the course of the season, the women were led by senior captain Lindsay Ranahan who completed her career at Regis with lifetime best swims in all 3 backstroke events at the NEISDA Championships. Her performances rank her third on the Regis all-time list in the 50 and 100 backstroke and 2nd all-time in the 200 backstroke. Ranahan and sophomore Christina Estrada, who earned All New England honors in the 200 freestyle, helped lead the women to a 14th place finish at the NEISDA Championships. The Regis coaches would also like to recognize senior captain Melissa Moore for her four years of dedication to the swim program.

Senior captain Ben Perry was a part of the record book revision for the men's program as he lowered his own mark in the 200 backstroke and was part of the record setting 400 medley relay that placed 6th at the NEISDA championships. Overall, the Pride men set 16 new records on their way to a program best 6th place finish in this year's championship meet.

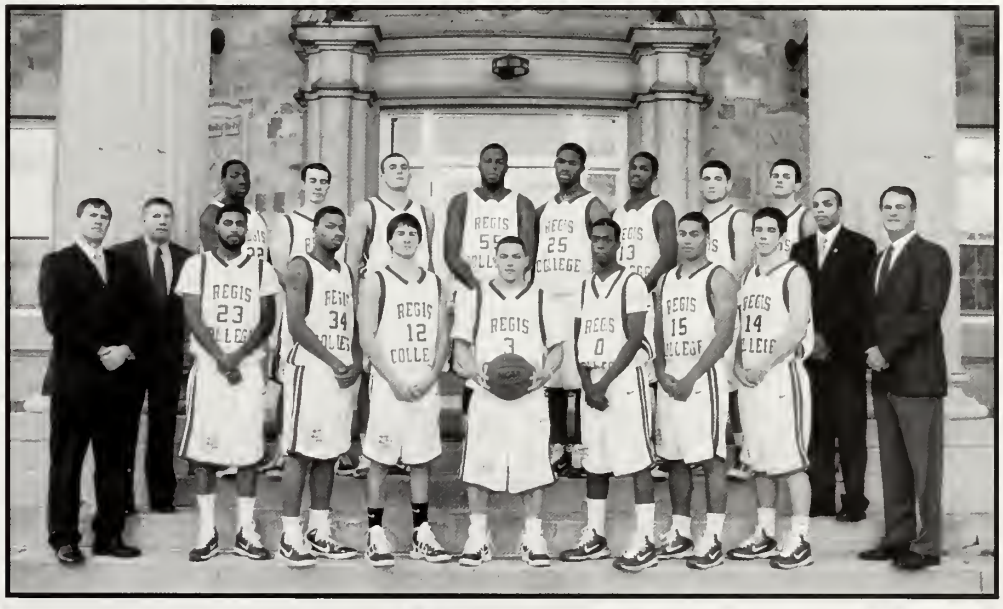
Women's Basketball

The Regis Women's Basketball Team having come off its most successful season in 15 years in 2010 was looking to take it to the national level in 2011. Regis had a very competitive non-conference schedule and played some of the top ranked teams in the country. Regis handled a lot of adversity in the 2011 campaign with a very competitive schedule and a season ending injury to one of their starters. Even so, Regis continued to battle with big wins over conference foes Western New England, Gordon College, Wentworth and others. Led by Senior Sarah McNult who pulled down a career milestone 1000th rebound and Senior Brittany White, Regis battled for a top seed in the conference. Regis had many significant contributions from Junior point guard Stephanie Crawford who led the team in scoring, Alex Chace came on strong in conference play with her 3 point shooting ability and the freshman class stepped up and made great contributions. Claire Ramonas and Teresa Busiek started for the Pride. Claire was named conference rookie of the week on two occasions. Lauren Kimble was very steady at the guard position and Meaghan Troiano stepped in at the post.

Men's Basketball

The 2010-2011 basketball season saw the Regis College Men's Team reach new heights. The team returned 5 seniors and infused talented young players to form a tough and determined team. The squad was led by our 6 seniors: Phil Alibrandi, Mike Fernandes, Darrin Kelly, Derrick Neal, Jimmy Irmiter, and John Thompson. Juniors Kandley Val and Jonathan Josselin performed admirably all year, and freshmen Ryan Chambers, Ahmad Charles, Rob Edwards, and Laquinn Shuler contributed throughout the year. Derrick Neal became the first men's player to surpass 1,000 points and became the program's all time leading scorer. Phil Alibrandi also reached the 1,000 point plateau, capping off a great career. Neal, Alibrandi, and Fernandes had been with the men's basketball team since its inception in 2007.

Coach Nate Hager and his experienced team had one goal as the season began: make the TCCC playoffs for the first time in school history. The Pride played a demanding non-conference schedule, and it paid off in TCCC conference play. Regis finished with an 8-5 conference record, clinching the program's first ever post-season berth. The Pride earned a home playoff game, losing a heart-breaker to eventual conference champion Salve Regina. To cap off an amazing season, the Regis College Men's Basketball Team was invited to play in the ECAC tournament, another first for the program. The Pride set a school record for wins this season and have successfully started a winning tradition at Regis College.



Track & Field

The 2010-11 Track & Field Teams introduced the start of a new era. Even with a large freshmen class the squad re-wrote the history books continuously throughout the year. On the women's side, the school witnessed its first vaulter as Tori Rapsis qualified for the Division III New England Track & Field Championships her inaugural season and set the school record at 9'6". The women's team also sent a 4x200meter relay squad to the DIII Championship Meet with the quartet of Ana Baker, Deborah Cesar, Katherine Warner, and Kate Haslam.

The men, in only their second varsity year, posted a number of new school records. Freshman Adam Heathman set new marks in the 200 (23.33s), 400 (53.01s), and 500-meter dash (1:08.23min); the latter also qualifying for the Division III Eastern Conference Athletic Championship (ECAC). Fellow freshmen Lucas McCann set records in the 600-meter run (1:30.80min) and 800-meter run (2:05.70 while Bobby Ryan became the men's team first shot putter, throwing the 16-lb implement 35' 9 " The Team Captains for the 2010-11 Seasons were Ana Baker, Kate Haslam, and Nathan Fagundo.

Softball

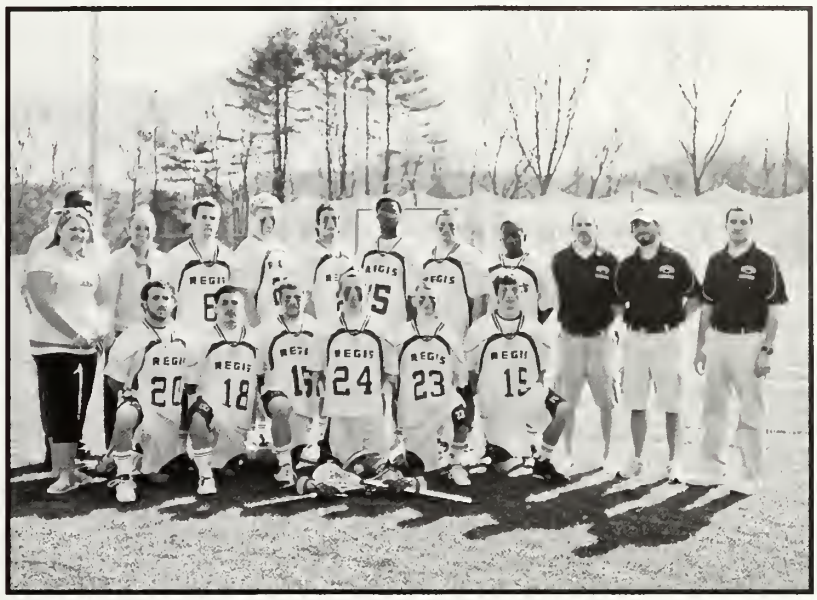
This year's softball team was led by the 4 senior captains: Rachel Cavella, Amanda Carlson, Hope Benjamin and Shannon Hurley. They were followed by 2 returning, hard-working juniors, 2 promising new sophomores and a solid, energetic 8 first year players! Their season started in Fort Myers Beach, Florida and ended with a battle in their last year as part of The Commonwealth Coast Conference. The senior captains have laid a foundation for the returning and incoming players who hope they will be able to seek a playoff spot in the new conference next year! Their leadership, dedication and commitment to see the program through its ups and downs have created a legacy that will always be remembered!

Women's Lacrosse

The Regis College Women's Lacrosse Team entered the Spring 2011 season with a full roster and high hopes. The team has great potential and each year, the primary goals are to see improvement from each individual player along with the team as a whole. Nine players returned from the 2010 team, including co-captains Teresa Crevier, '12 and Evonne Orzoco, '12 and seniors Alycia Murray and Franli Bencosme. Three-quarters of the players on the roster were freshmen and sophomores, with 10 of those players new to the Regis Lacrosse program this year. After all of the snow at the beginning of the season, the coaches and players got out onto the turf and continued to learn the sport and improve the program.

Men's Lacrosse

The Men's Lacrosse Team saw much improvement in their second season. Led by three returning sophomore captains, Stephan Bottex, Andrew Goldberg, and Brad Hastings, the team also infused some excellent talent from a great class of freshmen and leaned on the experience of their two seniors, Frank Tammaro and Derek Brown. After growing by leaps and bounds this year, the team looks forward to building on that improvement for next season when they will join the Pilgrim Lacrosse League.



If there were ever a time to dare,
To make a difference
To embark of something worth doing
It is now.Not for any grand cause, necessarily-
But for something that tugs at your heart
Something that is worth your aspiration
Something that is your dream.
You owe it to yourself
To make your days count.
Have fun. Dig deep. Stretch.

Dream big.
Know, though,
That things worth doing
Seldom come easy,
There will be times when you want to
Turn around
Pack it up and call it quits
Those times tell you
That you are pushing yourself
And that you are not afraid to learn by trying.

Persist.
Because with an idea,
Determination and the right tools,
You can do great things.
Let your instincts, your intellect
And let your heart guide you.

Trust.
Believe in the incredible power
Of the human mind
Of doing something that makes a difference
Of working hard
Of laughing and hoping
Of lasting friends
Of all things that will cross your path

Next year
The start of something new
Brings the hope of something great.
Anything is possible
There is only one you
And you will pass this way but once.
Do it right.

What is Success
Ralph Waldo Emerson

To laugh often and love much;
To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children;
To earn the approval of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty;
To find the best in others;
To give of one's self';
To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition;
To have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation;
To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived...
This is to have succeeded.

IN RECOVERY
As the economy showed signs of recovery from the worst recession most Americans had ever known, President Barack Obama's satisfaction ratings also became more positive.

(clockwise from top left)

NEW HOMEOWNERS REJOICE First-time home buyers received tax credits of up to $8,000 when Congress passed a bill intended to revitalize a struggling housing market. The early summer deadline was later extended to serve those buyers whose closings were delayed due to the number of loans being processed. WAR IS OVER In late August, President Obama announced that Operation Iraqi Freedom had officially ended. While the last combat brigade had already vacated, some U.S. troops remained in Iraq through year's end to help with training new Iraqi military forces. HEALTH-CARE REFORM The Affordable Care Act was signed into effect in March 2010, with the hope of enhancing accessibility and quality of health care for all Americans. Prospects for a potential repeal continued for months. PAYROLL TAX CUT Aimed at stimulating the economy by increasing take-home pay, these cuts saved workers earning $50,000 an estimated $1,000. Some opponents worried about the decrease the cuts would cause in Social Security funding.

CYBER-BULLYING
Bullying didn't always happen at school or even in person. Some of the most vicious attacks happened over the internet on social networking sites or via instant messages. Many worried that internet bullying was becoming more prominent because of the relative anonymity afforded by phantom screen names.

A REAL ISSUE:

BULLYING

Though bullies had been feared in schools and neighborhoods for centuries, the changing landscape of peer teasing and torture took several visible turns in recent years.

In the past, intimidation and verbal or physical abuse may have been most common forms of bullying. Another form of bullying, social alienation, became more powerful as a result of cyber bullying, where a victim's reputation may have been destroyed via emails, blogs, forum posts or text messages.

After what seemed to be an increase in teen and tween suicides due to bullying, many schools, communities and other organizations moved to provide programs and information for affected students and their parents/teachers.

ITGETSBETTER.ORG
This movement, inspiring nearly 10,000 user-created videos and more than 30 million views, was started in 2010 by author Dan Savage. Among the celebrities, politicians and businesses submitting videos were President Obama, Hillary Clinton and employees of both Facebook and Google. It was a place where people could share their stories, take the It Gets Better Project pledge and watch videos of love and support.

NATIONAL SUICIDE PREVENTION LIFELINE
By calling 1-800-273-TALK, anyone feeling the extreme effects of bullying could get the support they might need from trained volunteers who were ready to help.

CARTOON NETWORK'S "STOP BULLYING, SPEAK UP" CAMPAIGN
Kid-centric television channels such as Cartoon Network stepped up to the plate in the fight against bullying. They launched their own campaign to encourage kids to speak up and to ultimately get their schools involved in anti-bullying programs.

THE TREVOR PROJECT AND LIFELINE
The Trevor Project was established to end suicide among young people by providing life-saving and life-affirming resources including a nationwide, 24/7 crisis intervention lifeline (1-866-4-U-TREVOR), digital community and advocacy/educational programs that created a safe, supportive and positive environment for everyone.

VIDEO PROOF
After the miners gave their loved ones a sense of relief by showing all 33 men alive and accounted for, they used videos to chat with their families.

FLAWLESS RESCUE
Televised efforts allowed the world to look on as Chilean miners trapped underground for nearly 10 weeks by a mining accident returned to safety in October. It took just 22 hours and 37 minutes for all 33 miners to travel nearly half a mile to the surface.

BOUNCING BACK
Arizona congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords made record strides in her recovery after a gunshot wound to the head during a Tucson shooting in January that killed six others. Giffords was critically injured, but surpassed expectations in the months following the shooting.

JOINING FORCES
When Britain's 2010 election ended in a hung Parliament, the two winning rival Prime Minister candidates (David Cameron, a Conservative, and Nick Clegg, a Liberal Democrat) agreed to join forces and form a coalition government, the U.K.'s first in more than 30 years.

EGYPTIAN OVERTHROW
President Hosni Mubarak's 30-year reign over Egypt ended in February when huge protests encouraged him to step down.

A ROYAL ENGAGEMENT
Prince William and his long-time girlfriend, Kate Middleton, scheduled an April 29 wedding after a much-discussed engagement.

LOSS OF POLISH PRESIDENT
Lech Kaczynski, his wife and 94 others died in April 2010 when their plane crashed in Russia. Thick fog was cited as the accident's cause.

WIKILEAKS SAGA
Julian Assange, a main spokesperson for the international non-profit that published classified news leaks, was named Readers' Choice for TIME's 2010 Person of the Year.

SUPREME COURT
Elena Kagan, formerly the Dean of Harvard Law, was sworn in as the Court's newest Justice in August. She replaced 90-year old Justice John Paul Stevens.

AND THEN

Nearly 100 tons of dead fish, mostly sardines, washed up on a Brazilian beach and reports of other mass deaths came from Italy and France.

While theories about the mass deaths included everything from cold stress and fireworks to hail, many scientists suggested that the various occurrences were merely coincidental.

/OIL SPILL IN THE GULF

BRITISH PETROLEUM
CEO Tony Hayward testified before the House Energy and Commerce Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee. Hayward resigned from his post on July 27, 2010.

205 MILLION GALLONS
The amount of crude oil that spilled into the Gulf of Mexico made this the world's largest accidental oil spill in history. After five months, the well was declared effectively dead."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK
BP station boycotts and anti-BP social media groups as well as traditional protests, like this one in Vienna, Austria, allowed people to make their feelings about the oil spill known.

BOUND TO HAPPEN
The follow-up report by the National Commission on the BP Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill and Offshore Drilling said 'systemic' problems caused the blowout/oil spill and only 'significant reform' could prevent future spills.

THE STATS

APRIL 20, 2010
BP oil rig Deepwater Horizon exploded in the Gulf of Mexico, killing 11 men and injuring 17 workers. In late April, BP estimated the resulting leak at about 5,000 barrels (210,000 gallons) a day.

A NEW ESTIMATE
In June, the government produced other figures, estimating that 30,000 - 65,000 barrels (as much as 2.7 million gallons) of crude was pumping into the gulf each day.

OBAMA SPEAKS
The President addressed the nation after traveling to the gulf to survey the damage made to the Louisiana coastline.

ORGANIZED CHAOS
For months, controlled burns were conducted at sea to help prevent any further spreading of the oil to the shoreline. Coastline in four states was affected.

LIVE FEED
The nation was able to survey the oil escaping from the leak site via BP's live video feed, assuring the public that the leak would be taken care of.

MONEY WHERE THEIR MOUTH IS
BP projected that they had already spent $2 billion on clean-up efforts by June. The budget tallied $20 billion over three years.

HOW TO PROPERLY WASH OIL-COVERED BIRDS

STEP 1

Gently flush eyes with warm saline solution. Swab oil from nostrils and bill. Remove any oil from stomach with tube.

STEP 2

Wash oil from body and wings with a dishwashing solution. Make sure to wipe the feathers in the direction they are growing.

STEP 3

Repeat 3-4 times until oil is completely washed away, then gently towel dry bird. Bird will be ready for release in 2-4 days.

DEADLY ENDING Oil contamination is often deadly for birds if they are not properly washed and cared for. Oil reverses birds' water resistant feathers, making them vulnerable to temperature change. Oily feathers also make it impossible for birds to fly and can even drag them underwater to drown. The oil can also cause internal harm when birds try to preen the oil from their feathers. It can cause kidney, liver and reproductive damage among other things. CLEANING EFFORTS Scientists and other volunteers worked on all kinds of wildlife affected by the spill. The processes for cleaning birds, turtles and dolphins varied, as did survivors' chances for recovery. Thousands of birds and dozens of turtles and dolphins perished. LASTING EFFECTS In addition to the casualties and the damage to wildlife, there are numerous other long-term effects. Human health issues included increased risk of cancer and other ailments, as well as escalated stress. Two of the region's other major industries (tourism and seafood) were shut down immediately and suffered lasting losses. Louisiana traditionally contributed a third of the nation's shrimp, oysters, crab and crawdads and, despite massive marketing campaigns, hotels and resorts on the gulf shore suffered decreased occupancy throughout the summer.

STRENGTH IN NUMBERS By June, 558,000 barrels had been collected from the water's surface and nearly 1,240 miles worth of booms had been set up to prevent oil from reaching the shoreline.

HELPLESS While four wildlife rehabilitation centers were established in response to the oil spill, 36 national wildlife sanctuaries were threatened.

OTHERS JOINED IN Mexico, Norway, Canada and the Netherlands all donated equipment (such as the water-skimming system on the right) to aid in the clean-up efforts.

JULY 15, 2010 After nearly three months, the leak was finally capped, but not before the effects of the spill could be seen in photos that were taken from space.

NO LONGER NSEA It was estimated that more than 125 miles of Louisiana shoreline was contaminated with the washed up crude oil.

OIL CAPTURE RIG Discoverer Enterprise, a deepwater drilling vessel, aided in recovering the spilled oil gushing from the leak site after a cap was placed in June.
